

Chapter 11?!!

I feel. I like madame KOI KOI as I walked past everyone with my shoes going KOI koi on the floor, my eyes focused ahead of me- I dared not to cry during the car ride. Sure, I was the only one at the back but that's just an interview / spy room cause I know that both driver and guard are ready to relay details of the issue and my every reaction to my uncle and I don't want any sort of pity or conversation with them - especially not if I doesn't come with a solution on this issue.v

The doors has barely closed when i fling my bag across the room and lounged at a punching bag and began to attack it. I just had to make it feel what I was feeling, i throw my anger on it. But no, it kept increasing and I nearly exploded when I heard me name on the speakers but I kept my cool.

Miss natahsha to the main hall or grand office in 5.

(Are her fingers battered or red, cause she launched at the bag with no gloves)

She conports herself, maybe even cleaning off heat from her face and neck spraying mire perfume or so, then dusting off invisible dust. She steps outta the room - to her surprise where a guard was waiting to escort her.

Entering the hall and having all voices going silent instantly was not the vibe natashs wanted. She sly glanced at everyone and it seemed that their faces held something that she wanted to but didn't need to know. Something...

Then her uncle broke the silence.

Natasha, I heard what happends dear, and I'm sorry you are going through this too. But if there's any clue that-

Clue??? Natsah cut him short. (Her uncke closes bis moth and stays calm whike givibg a bad things happen face)And voices whispering and matter chain, poor girl na wa o, jeez

What could be more obvious as a prime suspect in this case than the same man who is hiding in plain sight or who is closest to my family

Out of the voices and silent protests as to how she cut her uncle and so that she pretented not to hear, one voice rang...(directors voice e was single thr midst of things too but martins was the one she wanted)

Wait, martins! Is that you? Natasha cut herself midway and looked intently around the many men who sat / stood or congregated around her and her uncle and some high rankers when martins raised his hand peeked and stepped through the soilders or unifoermed men in front of him (martins is he tall like the rest of more shorter? I originally wanted him to be a bit shorter than Natasha, or same heights so that when she wears heels,she towers over him?? Oh well, you help too)

Listen, miss- Martins quickly ducks casually as a pillow passes him by and smashes the glass behind him! And everyone is shovked as men closest to Natasha begin trying to hold her as she quickly jumos over the chair heasing for martins, but hes quicker and dodges the next attacks: but she throws 2 or one more pillows she hid behind her back, and one impales the wall as the other slices the curtain - he dodges and jumped over. As a guards holds both her hands and she plops her butt on the nearest chair or stuff like a chair (maybe a bean bag). and she places her face on her knees and cries the hottest tears she had poured in her life.

(The pillow becoming dangerously eggs being very heavy or sharp is in the fantasy version where enatasha unknowingly uses powers- front where? The fact that she around such magic and that's its supposed to be a part of her and her strong emotions is enough chaos to try something out... Or maybe the pillows are made from some special threads hence her touching them turned them to what she needed or wanted. After all, the jewel is hers and her access to using such stuff is now activated. And maybe that's what chief said save your energy.. Cause she well, wasting previous mental and emotional and physical and spiritual energy that when channels right, am can help them in getting out of this mess)

Barely given a minute her uncle begins: child, please there will be time to cry for joy or cry tears of joy later...please come here. Hands grab her shoulder nudging her to get up(that's precious. She didn't really see her earlier cause she always blinded by her issues) and accept a fabric but she wonders...what did she even get herself into...now her sister has vanished - just like the jewel..

She didn't even know how long she remained there but a huge hand grabbed her palm and she took the handkerchief was provided her.

Well get through this just Save your energy ok. He said as he pulled her to rest her head on his shoulder (her uncle was squatting)

Martins: if it will make you feel any better, lets infiltrate u he's shop tonight

So you obey his order to kidnap me too??? Natasha fired with a voice lavender with tears as she wants held firmly by her uncle when she tried to leave his arms and embrace- she just buried her head in his heavily embroidered jacket - maybe the metallic embroidery cutting into her hair and reminding her of how unfair and uncomfortable life currently is for her.

Uncle refused to let me in on your sister (current) location, but I know someone who (would) have that information you don't have to, but since He actually works for me, my dear- you have nothing to fear uncle said as he held me tighter, and i swear he would have planted a kiss my forehead were it not for the crowd.

what does the uncle smell like? Lavender, citrus?- Natashas best scent but she can't wear the original ones that actually smell lovely and not choke you cause she was broke and at this point shes making a mental note to ask for or borrow or steal or sure his perfume when this is over.

The stares and occasional cat calls I receive as I walk past the halls and through the school campus like an international student aren't what I crave but still helps keep my mind distracted as i try to get some air- waiting for nightfall when I hear my name:

Natasha! I keep focused on my path till precious places here hand on my shoulder and points to the person who was calling) I turn to see my lecturer(the father of loveth) and for once, his vibe doesn't give off an ordinary mature and kind university lecturer or teacher.

My dear, you have been scarce. How are you and your family?

Natasha swallowed hard and precious stayed silent or said well., and trailed off as natasha she thought of an answer that wouldn't delay her, yet she wanted to tell him everything still, she can't be distracted by sentiments or worse, get him in danger. So she said: 'we're getting by' in the most calm voice she could muster - cause right now, she's feeling a mix of anger, shame, regret and sadness. She could snap.

The reports are everywhere. He said(a group of students looking rather a bit rowdy are incoming and natasha begins shifting from the way) and natasha furrows her eyebrows or raises her brow(s) Asks: reports? Her thoughts race as she tries to keep a hold of all those around her - and she remembers a lady she hasn't seen or contacted in a while- How is Juliet?!

(Precious is already way outta the way and could even be dragging natasha back now should natasha who has seen the anger tell the teacher to shift or just keep quiet?

If she keeps quiet, this happens

No one really knows (he sees them and shifts outta the way) but resources or Intel says that she's been kidnapped- he so pushed by one of the students in the group.

Old man, go hang around with your agemates for once. The huge guy says

Aww, that's harsh, his job is to hang around them or he has to hang around them for a living.

If she tells him to shift so they still at a safer distance from the hall and eavesdroppers, they pass with a :

Mr lecturer. Hope they aren't the Next?

Other guy: handout fees must be paid not in kind but in cash OK

He says and they all laugh like bastards or idiots

The huge guy smirks or winks at Natasha while the second blows precious a kiss and she looks away, but natasha was about to roll her eyes internally when she helped catch the lecture or ignore their insults when a flash or glimmer of something shiny or so catches her eye- but she can't seem to find it.

It's so familiar so, real, yet she can't get another glimpse. Hence she keeps her gaze on the eyes of the huge guy who smirks (and maybe runs his hands on or over his chest in one smooth motion and she catches another glimpse.

It's not visible, oh Gish, it is but it seems to be coming from within him or under his shirt???

Precious calls her attention back to the lecture and she quickly apologises and excuses herself to which he shouts be careful...and natasha's wondering why he's worried if he knows more than this and if it's a pattern for everyone around her to disappear or want her to disappear???

She slows her pace once she catches sight of the hall the guys (- her targets) walk into and sighting the teacher incoming, she walks in - in a stylist catwalk - notice my high aura not your buslshit kinda girl energy and precious tries to cook and keep up.

looking round the class as if looking for her seat, she instantly feels the pairs of eyes bore through her head and hair so she basks in the attention appearing to walk straight to them- only to catch another glimpse of the shimmer, then dart to a side to a desk not too far from those horrendous middle seat benches - just enough to seem studious and close enough for them to try to catch her attention. After all, on turning to her seat, she waved them and they all smiled admit their gossip(are this a group of boys and girls and who are the leaders???) I made 2, u pick.

She manages to sit on the desk vause of s handy handkerchief she found in her bag that she spread over the chair and used another to clean the desk, its disgusting! She can't imagine how she survived all these years nke that life has changed. She keeps to herself though as precious is happy to be in a university class for the first time - not minding much.

Whoever told the maid to pack in a notebook for her, (even though she did tell her that she was going to school) is a God sent cause she brought it, to write not notes, but names, gossip and act busy - but not for long, a tap on her shoulder and the girl points at the buff, huge guy looking like a soldier in active training smiling at her. (And Natasha wishes she could strangle him.)

He signals her to come closer or to their bench, they could even make a space and signal her in but she calmly points the teacher and one of the boys are sent out by the guy.

Barely minutes , and the teacher is off saying they should read the next few pages and submit her project on time and use the rest of her period for reading.

The guys and some girls shift from beside the huge guy as he beckons on Natasha's room come (they were surrounding him but now, the shift to go to the other side so he can have time or space to chat with his new 'catch' as that's what they call new girls - and she can't say no this time.

Knowing very well he is a cult member, if not the leader, she braces herself, and stands by the desk in front of his- not too close or too far- just enough for him to yearn.

Just as she planned, he goes: babe! Where have you been?!he says as he opens his palm - expecting Natasha to give him a high five but she casually says-: being your boring classmate. Still, I'm amazed you were we to recognise me (so soon/ fast)

Come off it, as long as there's news on this campus, I'm the first to hear it.

And I hope you're not gonna be the first girl I invite to my birthday party that's gonna reject.

His words seem to be coming from a storehouse of observation. And now I sense his aura, could it be the same I sensed during the days I had my jewel - she says as the jewel flashes again - truly it seemed to be buried in his chest - but how? The necklace is for a woman, and he can help wear it without a turtle neck to hide it? What's going on here???

I catch the other guy talking to precious as another guy Chips in: fine babe, no over thinking am o,
Huge guy(give him a name) and besides, the party no go nice

If girls no dey! (Thats a musical Line from one of falz the bad ghuy songs I think the name of the song is either
"if girls no dey or girls?") the entire class or student single the hall erupt as they cheer.

(Could these be the guys who make mayasja so angry she insults a teacher, and then and their dabs also cheer? Or are they out for Natasha? Also because they are apprentices of uche too.)

And huge guy continues: I'll treat you well. What do you say? The bell rings and they get up to leave to another futile class as Natasha keeps her distance stepping away fashionably and (catching more glimpses of shine she can't place here hand on totally as there arent much reflective surfaces here) the huge guy eyes her and smirks(he's really cute so Natasha feels proud that he actually wants her company)- as if guaging her worth up and down - I no wan find you o. 9/ 10 pm, (chokse location) for your bustop.(yeah, ber former bustop)

They leave as natasha walks to the other end of the room but sits down- cause she DOsent wants them to follow her - she needs them to actually go far before she leaves - and precious runs to her.

Sis, you ok. What did he he do? What did you say???

I say: he'll be making a little pitstop before his birthday. I smirk as I send the text message. And precious looks like someone lost. (As natasha crackles/chuckles lightly)

When do we get to dress Natasha for school??? Thats a choice right???

I uncomfortably shift in my chair as my eyes shift away from my phone screen to land on the source of the thud not too far away from me- it's Precious falls down for thr hundredth time and I don't blame her as it's her first time training

The maid approaches me with an they are ready and waiting ma and I nod in approval as I have no desire to say any words that aren't (chime)

Bingo! I say to myself and stand up in my (stylish robe and matching trouser, I take off my robe an dbelt and give it to her. (I tell precious to keep it up - maybe precious is on the monkey bars and I'll see her...when I see her or maybe precious shouts where are you going, when are you returning? Wanna leave me here? And Natasha r plus and leaves) Last thing Natasha needs is to place someone else in trouble.

Great, so we get our weapons that complete the look of Natasha outfit under the robe or

We can change the base pieces- all according to the recommendation of what we have been given by Intel on how to dress for such...

We could have a maid pick visit Natasha wardrobe - wait a better robe would-be to get a random item from Natasha wardrobe and see how we add that to our style...

(As I don't know if we can create Natasha wardrobe yet- but that's part of the future expansion stuff so as always remember that we need the level so we know how we explain this. And please...how does the progressive web app differ from when this is in a game? I can't get my head around it.

She walks through the hall and past a pillar when she feels the presence of something strong - coming closer but not against her, she hopes. Turning back, she sees two or more guys and she (nods as maybe one pulls on the front edge of his hat and she returns the gesture maybe with a thumbs or a peace signal with her hands and she looks forward again cause that only lasted a few seconds and they are heading to the carzebo or so.

In a moment, they (or the cars maybe it's a mini limo or sienna like car so more men can enter comfortably) disappear from the manor- like mansion in a bright tunnel . Natasha alone at the back of the vehicle...just hoping her instincts picked on the truth and they are enough...

(After all, convincing her uncle is One thing, getting his support is another. And with men like these, last thing she needs is to return home in shame of this being a wild goose chase- especially since she forced this change in plan (they were to catch the guys and interrogate them....now is this a choice? Anyway, the story continues))

(Or maybe for more drama she leaves with 2 men but more are sent in as backup! Yes! That's why she also hopes they are enough cause she knows those guys are dangerous but these ones seem strong too)

The guy/guard bends open the door handle like it was unlocked before we arrived. And I follow closely only for my heart to nearly fly outta me as a shadow appears in front of me/ us with a voice that goes they're on the way, positions. Martins said

And why are you here???

To make sure my plans go well. Or For proof!

Of what???

Stations. The guard says and everyone disperse. Into different directions they hide and Martins goes to the open office just upstairs (about 5 feet up, and seems like a balcony- yet surrounded by its rails that also surrounds most or some of the bigger cabinets or shelves)

Behind a cabinet she hears when heavy footsteps came closer and hard pounding on the door in fact they angrily kicked the door open.

Martins! See I do not like wet in your and oga dey do. Just give me package make I deliver or run am sharp-sharp or sharpaly. My babe dey wait.

(Natasha crinkled her nose when she heard that last part - as if she would ever want to have anything to do with this Buffon. If not for current situations)The three guys dash in, lloking rather pissed - even in the dark, you can see that the dashing smile and cool semeanor that use to impress the gurls and slyly get awya with stuff is gine and this is the interior roaring.

The middle guy was the buff one who 'asked Natasha to his party' the second beside him had his hands in his pocket

And the third, well it was dark, and his head was bside the huge guy - which is behind the guy if you look at it from natasha s peespective cause ehs ebehind the cabinet to a side of the room and is using one of the googles or glasses from her outfit arsenal to guage these guys.

Almost immediately when the huge guy came in, she detected her jewel. Perfect!

But as soon as martins said he was coming down with the 'fake' package(there was no package natasha had to get martins to plan this and her uncle to agree if shell have any atom of thrust for the guy who works for her arch nemesis (if onky sje knew uche was just the closest source of issue she had not the (only) main issue)

The guy on the left / right took his hands outta his pocket and Natasha sees another glimmer!

'You picking this up?' - a voice on your shirt brooch says(or whatever a accessory we or you choose . amd I have a feeling that the guys who how witht hee are the ones who know her a bit more. Lets say tanko and, Arnold or maybe, what name?? Haha may be ones dark and the others a bit fair???)

More like these

The guy on the others side -the guy natasha can't statmrts walking back to go amuse himself somewhere else in the hall (the buff guy stands still with his gaze on martins - yeah, the door is wide open so moonlight shines in)

And more glimmers are detected.

Ceeqwinn, you seeing this?

Yeah! More reflections

He's coming straight at you! Get out there!

Choice:

Obey the order

Give your order

If she gives an order,its her saying, let's follow the plan!

Then a cloak thatbinstantly gets is thrown down the ceiling and with force and speed like a heavy rock it land son all three guys and martins immediately jumps off the stairs to hit the bottle on the fabris- it begins turning into stone and everything is covering as a aoikder uses his glove or so to shine a beam onto it ..all in an effort to subdue them all and do a clean job- the way it was planned- they were to be encased in a ball or box which will be bundle home. Then with the sheer number of men, they'll be over powered easily but like a flash, beams of lights and energy burts out ta the middle of the cloak-the final part to be sealed into stone, and punches are given from within it, as more beams pass through and the rock weirder or so stops becoming compresses nd begins to swell causing them to hrun to cover as it exolods.

The guys, gems brightly shining in the prsmts they are worn stnd in anger(and glancing around) as the middle buff one shouts: martins(you back stabber) if I no kill you today no be me be this.

Not just him, letsvtake then all down. another guy said.

Go ahead!! The buff guy respondes as they ran towards different oarts of the room(trying to get to and defeat their opponents) and I scramble to another hiding spot in the nick if time as the table that was just over me a split second ago is now being thrown across the room but (sliced or burned or dodges by the guard in one sweet move) (and this must be where on eof the clones see her. Cause big guy dosent recognise or see her till he's bounded)

We can imagine that the big one go for martins (well nataurally will be more involved in the fight now) and the other guard tries to help out and del with the other villians as Natasha continues with the story from here and beyond:

natasha keeps crawling past the fight, (headignto a higher area - maybe via another staircase) only to be surprised at how much flips and agile these men are and why they have to do that much mives when its a one on one fight.

(After all, I'm a situation ie this, the elemwnt of surprise is best kept for as long as possible.). plus with wizard being awake he could radio for help faster than in the other version or so OK

If she obeys the order

She has barely gotten away from behind the cabinet to a cushion or (single)sofa when the guy sits at that work table (yeah seems thats the same worktabke martins fixed her bluetooth radio on.)

And she sees it- his ear has an earring- disguised as a communicator! Oh how didn't she see through it she thought as he devides to ho turn on the lights cause its too dark when ah! And punches are heard as a thud completes the symphony.

At this point, martins is feets in front of the big guy. With a package covered with a cloth (and this is dark but... As soon as the guy turns his back to sight the noise He in one smooth motion wioes the bottle over the back of the guys head- the motion is hidden but where natasha is hiding, and all around the floor, blood, actually the red liquid in the bottle of wine (yes he used the bosses wine haha) is everywhere scaring the life outta natasha as she could cover her mouth and maybe even spit, close her eyws tightly and widen them instantly again as the room gies quiet for a split second, then a heavy cloth or so falls on the other guy and the other soikder who droooed it on him form above, jumps down to subdue the guy only for red or pinkish blasts of light (choose the shade - mayne depending on the guys but if they combine it gives red or reddish pink as the trues color of thejewel. The purer the color the better) (the cloth is the cloak he word to the mission. Its light but can get very heavy when thrown on an opponent)

Now trying to shield himself from the blasts that seem to come from the guys finger, rhe soilder ir uniformed guy or (name) is left to avoid an evade as hell tries to take him out.

As for the big guy, they were expecting him to fall but he simply turns back, and as martins somersaults away from his deadly punch, he grabs him by the ankle and swings or flings him into the car side of the room where martins crashes into the railed shelves and falls on the floor as gadgets and books of every kind fall on him. (All natasha and the guys could see - if they can was that he managed to crouch so the damage wouldn't be too harsh) and hes buried in his love or with the love of his life - gadgets and machines.

Gritting her teeth- so she doesn't try to scream or let fear paralyze her, natasha keeps crawling past the fight, (headinto a higher area - maybe via another staircase) only to be surprised at how much flips and agile these men are and why they have to do that much mives when its a one on one fight.

steadying herself by a pillar upsatairs she un clips her rope (belt, sash, cords that design her outfit) and aiming the guys finger, she's confused on how there are you to 7 men - from where? Clearly not a fair fight.

(does she tie or secure herself to the pillar with a room or so that she has security.)

She whips the rope and strike! She catches his arm - just before he give out another shot. He pulls hard on the rope but she holds on- well its attached to her outfit and it being mad form special threads sged be the one to tear than the outfits so shed better brace up. Then cheerleading all hee struggles , anger and frustration on the guy she is able to pull back, make the rope grow, encasesing and enrappin his arm more rillthe rooe grows like weeds or parasits or weaving baskets (he hismd the ring under a brown bandage so you never find it) get the dinger and start to tear off the bandage in an armor to pull out the ring- picture a auper tight bracelet attempting to pull out out your fingers cause you wanna take it off without cauttong or opening it like a thief in handcuffs.

He screams in pain and Natasha almost surprised at herself thatvshe say a ry of light grow within her (as a solider gets close enough to administer his own dose of pain) - but from the corner of her eye, the light flashes again and she barely has time to think:

Choice,
THINK FAST!!!

She could decide to take him on

Or save herself first - after all, she's kinda self-trapped

She immediately swivels to another side of the pillar as He smashes a plasma television at her formee size. Making her scream. (She hears a ceeqwinn heads up! The soilder flings his hat (that truns into a boomerang and slices the line natsahs uses to secure herself to the pillar - saving her) Then he swims for her legs and tries smashing a metallic part left off the tv on the and she quickly raises her legs up. Then as soon as her leg hits the rail, she kicks him in the face and jumps off as the line is sliced.

story continues but if she chooses to SAVE HERSELF, she quickly messes the button or un clips or imagines the rope losening at exactly the time shes ready to jump (but maybe he grabs the room holding her back and she screams as she catcges onto a railing and letting the rope go, he could shout bitch!

So that she's barely in the ooenoffice balcony when the building shakesand the storyline continues

Jumpinf over to the othee side of the railed cabinet's, she s barely in the office balcony when the building shakes (- apparently the soilders gave a huge blow to the huge guy and he lands his back on one of the pillars and cabinet area undeneate or beside where natasha is standing and it caracks badly) -making her almost fall off especially as the guy she still had his arm confiscated uses the opportunity to pull her down.

But in anither breath, with her shoes against the failing that's already begging for comfort, and every inch of her body begging her to let go , cut the room and be free of this super powered freak and making a mental note of how shed use the jewel if she got it in her hands again, even muscle killed to the last, she silences the doubt - at least if she gives her all, even if she loses, shed never regret she didn't try her all - then the rope comes free - the force makes her stagger till she hits or almost hits her back at the wall as the light finally shines brightly from above- a ring!

All sanity is lost as she flys to a cabinet rail- in an attempt to catch the ring and a shadow flys from the opposite railing - missing both the gem and her and lands on the floor- maybe unharmed as the jewel light fly's into the balcony ceiling height windows and fades away- as if it absorbed into and through the wall. Leaving natahas shocked and the guy already climbing the stairs - heading for hee when the pile of gadetixal ruffle skaked or moved underneath and he jumps down- heading for martins as Natasha uses her whip to create a weaved geted barricade - ans her whip returns to its place. (hmm, how do they call on the powers, cause she usually has to tell them what to do (manually) as if they act independently. So they imagine what they need then it obeys or answers (remember, answer and obey are 2 different things. Obey for which rank and answer for who?? dpending on their skill or ability to handle the power or give a detailed description psychologically or via brain waves on yeah, TELEPATHICALLY! and it happens)

He throws her a device or gadget from the cabinets (maybe along with either a few more clones or the clones he creates right then and there.).

and now she has a choice:

Get her jewel (even if it means chopoing the ear off every one of the clones (hmm, can I leave this one in your hands??? I trust you to use the wisdom front the holy spirit on this)

Protect herself and call for help. (or let the guys handle it or so they can help her too. She do this alone)

If she chooses

Protect herself and call for help. (or let the guys handle it or so they can help her too. She do this alone). the story continues...

and natasha is dodging, and using well, not just her whip - but what ever other weapon she has installed in ber outfit.

(haha installed, who knew if you can choose weapons and they get blended or installed into an outfit or they come with their own outfit that they need to get blended in - or you style around it add to your style so you get to keep or use the weapon.) Maybe to slice, redirect, return, shield or destroy the items and they get angrier and she might say little help here or do we call backup? so, then instantly close in as a boomerang or so goes round and through the guys and they disappear - as one clone ducks and takes to his heels

Making a solider pull out a weapon from nowhere and the brilliant colors full the room as he uses it a shot, 2, 3 and in a brilliant flash of light, the guy disappears (in petals or so) does the guy get weak from running and his knees almost touch the floor of the stairs dasing outside the light through the ceiling highway windows(the ones the ring seemed to disappear into) as hell is paused and vnishes in swrils of like fabric or petals or whatever accessory or signal from the bearer of the attack.

And the rest of the clones vanished.

Letting her breath a sigh of relief which couldn't be completed as more damage to devices punches and co were still being heard and she immediately remembered martins yet rushing to her makeshift wwv of a gate she found no one.

Still scared for him and of the evening, someone grabs her shoulder and she spointed to a shadow crawling on the higher rails -aiming the giant that's trying to trash the other solider.

Then instantly as if on clock work, they both use their powers (whatever you choose for him and atasha but the intely is to keep or glue him to a place for some seconds) that they do as the solider keeping him busy takes a giant leap and maybe flips away from the danger(did they give each bother a heads up or are they so in sync?)and the man is instantly pinned to the wall - allowing martins to jump on him, grab his necklace as natasha and thevguarx hold him with all theyve got.

A satisfying rip and a graceful thud by none other than martins and they let go as they flee in different directions.

The solider who kept him busy turns his bekt to a whole hand uses it on his(sorry, neck). and as he rraises his hands to hold the rope, the second solider who banished the other whips both his hands together and uses the room as leverage to raise his body into the air and give the guy a kick on his face which sends him on the floor as he steadily decreases in size and muscle mass - (especially with martins tearing up his clothes and taking the jewel farther from him.)

When the big buy sees or faces Natasha, he shocks- babe, I know I've been mean but give me another chance (and you'll see that I'm changed now) babe!!! He should as Natasha runs outside and maybe again slaps him)

A guard throws or places or let's a handkerchief fall on him and it instantly bandages or ties him up. As they get the other one ready for transportating and call backup (or should they?? Or when did they??? Or does backup land just as martins or the other solider is bouncing the guys up?? Yeah)

Natasha cant even begin to thank or congratulate these men. Maybe especially martins but that will have to wait cause shes still searching frantically for her ring when an extremely bright torchvyhatvseemed to pierce destinies landed on the floor- making her look back at the weilder and see it came from his gloves as he greeted with a just helping.

His uniform seemed to sparkle under the moknlight and shimmer with different hues like the embroidery danced. If the guys in there could do this, what about him??? She couldn't even imagine.

We can only imagine how she might have gotten nods of approval or a are you OK, kid, brave girl or you shouldn't have come here. Niw she had to face her uncle - with one jewel, a half baked but unnecessary dangerous plans and ahow woukd she act cool with all she has seen???

And maue at hime how, hee uncke moght be so worried when he heard from the men that his little niece was active in the fight! How come, she was only there to be sure of what she saw. If now he never ould have allowed her to dare leaving her room in the first place. How did he even let her convince him of such atrocity - that his sis should be allowed to fight when he has men beyond numbers. Oh God, what will he tell her dead oarentn, his dear ex female friend , or their entire family line if the next suitable heiress or leader should get hurt!!!

These guys have their special weapons but use them to banish. To death or another mystical prison. Hence why it seemed they wasted time. But maybe the solider who sent off the guy with the earliest jewel can banks but the other solider can kill with his. Whatever the vase, he had to banish to recover cause the guy still has the jewel and they need it. And since they need to interfere someone, they need at least a guy to take home- even though they have the ring guy bounded.

What about wounds, martins just went through a lot. Deoes the spoecial outfit help out??? For all of them like the bad guys?

Now you know what best natasha hides in, and how you arrnage tje scene, people, guys and how many and details and so on.)

As you can see, the huge guy got super human strength, and might - maybe even size. Bes wearing a piece of the jewel as a pendant under his shirt.

The other has the beam that curts trough anything. He wrapped the ring(either jewel got seperated by the evil guys in an effort to be pass all security in an effort to transport the jewel necklace and since the jewel can shape shif or so, maybe they just called on that power and it obeys or answers. truned I told a ring OK atvthus poin his bems could also be why the building is being wrecked the most. Anyway, he bandaged his ring to avoid suspicion.

and the third guy who now can multiply himself and well, naturally they are now meta humans for using the jewels this way.

This guy covered his as the fancy button in his ear communicator. Slick right. That way they can attend school, work. and all without losing track of the jewel, and still report to where they should head and still get a feeling for the powers in cans stuff like this resistance happens!

See why I say uche can't be the main master mind but an agent who has the guys to carry this out, likes evil, is dubious, and already close to natashas family , he could keep an eye on them. (at this point, seems he never loved Nat at ah just wanted to use her to achieve what he was promised by who???? Who's the big bad? The revelation may be the person who tried to annihilate the entire famiky line in the first place or his group. We need a big bad, haha this is givung muzan x demonslayer x kpop demon hunters vibes)

OK! AT THIS POINT, ITS UO TO YOU TO KNOW HOW TO END THIS CHAPTER. And the fights and scenes, totally dependent on the kinda fantasy but this is what I manged to inderatand enough to open down from my god so please be encouraging even if were taking parts out OK)

AND WHERE DO I START THE NEXT???

his over

Chapter 12,13????

Chose to meet your uncke immediately

Or retire to paradise

Choose your uncle and youre still shocked and in the car as everyone (the driver and guard) alights and you slowly but steadily trail out of it.

(They are the first car inside the hall - so the uncke who is already worried and waiting, couldnt wait for nataha and o cime out and he snatches her into hia arms - esoecially sonce he barely has seconds of affection to soare with his niece before the other cars start ciming in with the criminals and aoilders and backup. He has to act tough you know. Haha) Not knowing how to face him she opens the door and a strong palm pulls you into a hug- the scent of the body you are engulfed in moves you to hug back and even harder as you begin:

Uncle I'm so sorry! I should have just stayed put! It didn't go -She might release a tear she had been holding and closes her eyes tightly

'As planned?(he cuts her off) I am sorry (you had to go through that) my dear' He says as he pulls away to look into her eyes. And he looks all round(asking if or where was she hurt) her maybe even holding her arms tightly to which she could go arh!

To which she sees his breath hitch (or like his chest tighten it his eyes narrow in the slightest - as if he felt the pain with her.

The next vehicles pull in and he signals to her maid and says 'well talk later, go rest up, well done.'

All comfy, well you choose her lounge clothes and maybe shes beside an indoor pool and precious being all exited and chatty, asking about the mission and why natashs did not stay to see the interrogation of the criminals that were blind folded and dropped onto the hard floor - instead she just left to come sip juice and natasha could reply : 'God forbid or heavens forbid or I forbid being anywhere the interrogation room!' I say to precious who keeps asking about the mission and why I'm not there to influence the rest of the decision making process since I k ow how to plan and she laughs at me

And story continues

(how do the guys react to their pains??? Well they are trained, they'll keep their cool or does natasha (in the car, or during the time they are getting bounded) see some shirts or outfits glow- even just a little and think its her eyes cause of how sges feeling but heck, they are getting healed or so- not as fast as one that the jewel or so obeys but it answered them when they concentrated?)

Retire to paradise

'God forbid or heavens forbid or I forbid being anywhere the interrogation room!' I say to precious who keeps asking about the mission and why I'm not there to influence the rest of the decision making process since I k ow how to plan and she laughs at me making me remember how:

Um please, this scenario is different from this:

(shocked and in the car as everyone (the driver and guard) alights and you slowly but steadily trail out of it.

(They are the first car inside the hall - so the uncke who is already worried and waiting, couldnt wait for nataha and o cime out and he snatches her into hia arms - esoecially sonce he barely has seconds of affection to soare with his niece before the other cars start ciming in with the criminals and aoidlers and backup. He has to act tough you know. Haha) Not knowing how to face him she opens the door and a strong palm pulls you into a hug- the scent of the body you are engulfed in moves you to hug back and even harder as you begin:

Uncle I'm so sorry! I should have just stayed put! It didn't go -She might release a tear she had been holding and closes her eyes tightly

'As planned?(he cuts her off) I am sorry (you had to go through that) my dear' He says as he pulls away to look into her eyes. And he looks all round(asking if or where was she hurt) her maybe even holding her arms tightly to which she could go arh!

To which she sees his breath hitch (or like his chest tighten it his eyes narrow in the slightest - as if he felt the pain with her.

The next vehicles pull in and he signals to her maid and says 'well talk later, go rest up, well done.')

But this one above seems better than the one below. But I still like the conversation between precious and nataahs on what empowered natasha but heck, at this point, im running outta ideas, and I wanna continue the story so the best character arc, dialogue, pacing and co is what we need for the best results ok. May Jehovah God help us OK.)

I fell into my uncles arms wide eyes telling him ' uncle I suffered today. My eyes say my ear without mirror' and I could swear I almost saw the men wo went along with me freeze as my uncles eyes are laced with shock yet ladden with relief as he just pulls me into a hug and direvts me to go along with the maid and she places her hand over my shoulder saying well done'

I'm sure I could hear chuckles and stifled lighter form the men aroind but hmthats not my business, I needed to vent befor it becones a bygine issue. I was horrified beind reason, yet still cool and straight forward. I cant even understand the spirit or aura them at led me- maybe that black out I have always wanted to feel, the high if doing what I wanted to do to my haters or problems came alive and I well wouldn't say lounced on them - she could explain to precious when precious asked why she would dream ir how she coped)

Her phone buzzes and she gasps - and almost immediately looks away as precious tries to pock up the call but Natasha drags it with her or tells her not to touch it (choice)

Either way the call hangs up without an answering and then the maid tells Natasha to Join her to the grand room.

(you decide how to transition to this point, maybe precious drags the phine and falls into the swimming pool cause natasha let's it go as she hears the maid call her name)

Precious comes out and chases to get her in the pool or tries to pull her in(Natasha getting stronger Heck) but she manages to get her wet (precious didn't hear the maid request and natasahs like 'why!??' And the maids reaction to the time or so gets precious abd her to drag natasha to her warbrobe - afterall, you cant go walking int the midst of generals with just a robe haha. Or lounge wear. Maybe natasha says its lounge wear!) And clothes are poured on the bed.

Natasha HATES GETTING WET so even if the water wasn't much, she would still find fault) I hate it too.

Choose

Precious and Natasha enter the room with speed and greet all while panting- preciois panting more as Natasha walks straight to sit beside her uncle despite the looks of people watching and precious trailing till someone signals her to sit some where else (close to the mins cricle or in with the main circle?- closest to the center table)

Oh the center table:

There's this one I swear into the dream... The railings are like transparent glass that traps flowers, fishes and co.
Yes

able to make entirely of glass, and gold but like a glass box inside another glass box. You can add whatever you want to show off around the box knowing that everything will see what you poured around the particular between the boxes as you keep stuff that's personal inside the inner box itself- yes it could literally be that you remove the lid of the table - center and 4 partitions of in between covers (or you just use the big full covering that has all the designs but makes it hard to place stuff inside.

An inside could be a partition in size for wash organizing but big chance it's in transparent glass - so you don't even see it even if the space between the 2 boxes are not filled with anything at all.

In my dream, the woman drained the aquarium she filled around the table(yeah with live fishes(she uses the smaller covers) and exchanged them for pearls. And I was wowed beyond reason!

'Go ahead martins/ wizard/ wiz'her uncle said once she sat down. looking at the center table mere feet away from where she's sitting, she sees different invitations spread out on the table and seemed to feel the glimmer of jewel light from them...

First of all, (martins begins) here is the jewel we were able to retrieve - her uncle takes it from the table and hands it to her - to which she hesitates to both pick it up and accept it from him cause she remembers and the jewel piece the buff guy was wearing on the table and it hurt her to not even understand how the other vanished and the guy of the other is gone.) (but he shakes his palm a bit, and she accepts it - and it glows faintly- almost glowing that way cause she is scared too. (And ashamed she lost it but, I guess this is progress?? Oh no) She encloses it in her palms)

The only information we could get out of the guys is this:(martins presses or talks the button on the (table , mini screen, mini pc or remote and it plays the huge tv or speaker):

'Oga's or Uche's or he's going to ask forgiveness for his sins!'

Natasha uncke quietly says a hmph. And Natasha nearly hisses quietly (maybe saying 'obvious he had to have a hand in this') - trying to make sure her uncle doesn't hear her hiss it as they are next to each other on the same couch.

How does that even tally with this situation?- a general could ask or a soldier.

Precious raises her hand as her uncle who has a hand on his chin immediately points her.

'I think the question is HOW does he want to gain forgiveness.' She says with anxiety beginning to creep on her face and of course being extra polite to people of the caliber of people she's around.

More like WHERE. Natasha replies. With fire and desire shining in her eyes.

'Um!' A hand in the 2nd circle flies UP (Of uts a bit away from the center and those in the center- and that's directir. Cause as one who knows the operation, he can't be let loose easily till this is done hence why he is still getting used here and there so here he's allowed into the meeting - at real precious 1s here. So everyone puts ideas together)

'Forgiveness is attained in the church!' Director booms

'They claim.' Natasha fires back

'He could be right' Martins quickly cuts in- as some of these unused invitations are from churches.

'How could a man so sinister have access to a holy place?!' Natasha nearly screams.

'That's life' her uncle might say in a low voice. And she looks at him in which she darts her eyes to wizard who goes.

The question is where exactly. As these buildings are spread out around countries.

Looking at her uncle, he's watching something on a tablet and the voice is hooked to his ear bud. Then he says:

'Play this part of the footage too.'

Alright- Martins sends it to the screen or hologram or so and it gives down the guys:

He wants Jesus to arrest him!

Natasha nearly goes mad as heat and sweat begins to flood her body though it's actually cold in here (and she might not be in long sleeves) she shifts uncomfortably and wonders where she heard that begin but the pressure on her overbeats her from even remembering why that phrase is being used sometimes)

Precious raises her hand but a voice booms from behind:

Sir, it means heavy deliverance o! Director shouts from behind making muttering and side talks to fly around (you choose and if they ask director questions)

'Bring / let that young man (come) closer (to me)'

'Good day sir' director says and bows his head down in respect

Yes, in other words...he uses his palm to signal to the table and director shuffles some invitations and picks one:

This one! (He gives it to the chief with one hand and the other hand touching his forearm- another sign of great respect)

There is a heavy ministry going on there in 2 (or so- less or so) days. A full crusade that (even) I don't even want to miss!

'But that's not even a church! Plus, he doesn't seem like a man who would do anything without an ulterior motive (behind it). There has to be a link or connection were missing. (I prefer this dialogue than then next one)

('Eko hotel and suites'(you can change the name to something that rhymes later or even research if they can do church programs there.)

Martins says as the screen comes alive with the image of the majestic building.

Even at that, uche cannot do something for nothing. There has to be a link or connection were missing.)

Martins continues: All we have left are the invisible inscriptions behind every invite - but they seem incomplete.

We can imagine wizard pouring some powder or. hemical compound on the back of the invites to reveal bold, cursive hand writing. But her uncle just calmly twists his watch head under his weist and truns on a beam that he shines on the invites - making tje insceoption come clear and alive with brilliant colors- making natasha and preciois, directoo and some other soilders awe as the colors shine across rhe room. (what kind of ink is this natasha might say or preciois or director maight evwn reply money good o)

He then places his hand or arm or wrist high on top of the table and they - natahsa and her mates- wiz, director or prince, along with natasha, precious and a few others- arrange and rearrange the invations in the order that seem to make sense.

(they make 2 (or so) poems, or phrases or pledges or one od each but 2 years its not completely. Seems its reversible so we can imagine how lost in thoight the generals and especially Natashas uncle is.)

His legs are crossed and he has a hand on his chin- which he then suplorted on the handle of the couch later as he thought. Then he spread out his legs to watch the video, and now he's back in which position(or you choose cause big man Bruce aint happy)

Looking around she can smell size talks and instantly notice what's coming...

Her uncle ckears the noise with a word and the silence is deafening let's re-congregate on the matter.

Choice:

Refute or obey

Refute

Uncle, my sister's and maybe friend life's are In danger and this is your verdict she say in a low and almost hushed tone so she doesn't shame him.

Do you think I don't understand the gravity of the situation? You should know better that emotions will betray us- so everyone! (he then raises his voisce and looks away from Natasha) you have 45 minutes to get back to me on this with a lead we pursue immediately.

(Natasha doesn't seem to understand her uncle right now but deep down, she knows hes right)

Another chapter???

Now you can use what ever scenario to open when she choses obey but hwre is one that I like:

The machine went fatster. the noise grew louder as I kept filling inand packing in more fabric - the curtains. Yes I pulled them from my room and just stitches. Did the thread cut, I can't remember, but the feeling of impaling something, or channeling my energy into something feels better than sitting idol- that's the thing, natahs breathe channel her energy or emotion into doing whatvshe kniws is logicakly or right. But she stop disillusioned to but vclothes and she lives sewing- it sher faborite way to pass her time. That's why she lovee her aunts shop - oh her aunt, how has she been coping or rather destroying her name all these days???

The though of sewing for nothing - as she literally pulled curtains to sew them into nothing useful is annoying hee as she's wasting her energy. Thank god she didn't find the scissors or rather the maid didn't give them to her jen she asked.

(oh maybe this starts with a where is the scissors please (maid name) the maid knowing that this is not funny and sees natahsas sinister mood- something she hasn't seen before and nothing how the matyer is, refuses to give it to natasha so natahsa pulls down the heavy draoeries and dargs then to a sewing machine - it dosent have to be I. her room.

So the maid runs off as precious tries to tell natasha to calm down but natsah wont listen or let her drag her form the sewing table when the. mavhine suddenly goes off- no more stitches.

And fear catches her along with annoyance- she a never wrecked a sewing machine before not to talk of this high cakes kind...but her sisyer has oh let little sister share could she be she began asking herself as tears fbegin flowing from her eyes.

Natasha! He runvke calls her nams making her thoughts vanish and a stong senss if guilt for wreking his hime wash in on her and shes pours a few more hot tears. Befor equivkly unsing one quivk swipe to us ethe vautain to wipe her face as she faces the direction of her uncke onty to neet his eyes and him standong like an officer on porilud official duty.

'Now that I have your attention, please accompany me(walk with me) (to the garden)

Hand in hand, a butteefly in stroking colorw flys across their path and the singing of beautiful bird full the Ari - along witht the sweet smell of (flowers, dinner, his perfume, fruit or what weather???) And she could only tear up more as she feels more guilty for not taking her along on the night she met him twice. If her younher sister were here, the guilt of enjoying luxuries alone wouldn't be so bad.

Her uncle squeezes her palm a bit in gentle reassurance and leads her to a huge swing - that has a cushion like bed or couch as the chair of the swing and shes led to sit on it with him.

'Why the tears??' What exactly is eating you up dear?' He said as he rubbed her hands / fingers. (And maybe even strokes her cheek but Natasha is not a cheek person she doesn't like people touching her face so he might not dare)

'I'm sorry uncle' she says via bitter tears- 'enough with the apologies child' he gracefully says with eyes they reflected her own hurt

I feel selfish for being here without my kids sister! I feel like a murderer for abandoning her that night. I just wish I begged you to pick her up with me the night I met you twice (she pulls her palms from his and used it to wipe her face and cover parts of it)

The thoughts, and nightmares haunt me every night, and day.

I can't even bring myself to imagine what's going on with her currently. or worse, how she felt when she must have called me and I didn't answer when she was getting kidnapped. I wasn't there for my family when they needed me the most!!! she said and covered her mouth. And her uncle pulls her closer to him as she buries her face into his shirt staining, in fact drenching it with tears and he strokes her back gently and carefully as she sobs.

'I feel your pain child' I too felt irresponsible and alone when I thought I lost all my family.

But unlike me, your chance is close!

What do you mean? Natasha raises her head to look at him and he goes:

Those hidden words on the invitations aren't a riddle but a mantra - almost lost to the family but are an integral part of our heritage.

It reminded me of many things...information I need the jewel to confirm. But, since we have different invites and a need for a dominant location, I suggest we seek another perspective on this.

Tearful eyed, she manages to say: uncle, I'm a foreigner in this.

But someone else - close to you (your sister) isn't. I just need her contact, please. Natasha can't even feel anger at this point as she just looks away and I told the grasslands. Maybe...

In a huge bedroom with Natasha precious and chief. (whatever you choose, there's a nice bed and clutch and it gives a grand yet cozy setting)

Aunt! Precious says on the zoom call

Ahah, long time no see. I was worried you were carried away into the dust of the recent incidents big sis said back rather nonchalantly and sarcastically

And precious laughed it off saying : not in a negative light , but I was kinda swept off.

The chief signals her to go on and precious continues: That aside, there's someone who'd like to meet you -(the chief shifts into view of the camera and the big sister gasps!

Good afternoon sir. SHE says in a low, soft voice- the kind Natasha hardly hears her speak in.

How are you? He asks

I...I don't know. I can't even process what's happening so...she trails off- allowing him to speak

Natasha who connected to the zoom call sits in another corner sniffing (from secretly continuing crying) as she scans her big sis condition.

She seems to be sitting on the floor, the area looks like no one has been in there for months (it even seems packed with stuff remaining from the shop) and she's at home - probably sipping Carri or working on some pitiful meal - all alone. Natasha couldn't hold back her tears as she let some fall.

I am going to be frank with you; your current situation is pitiful / pathetic. And I truly sympathize with you. (Her eyes show a well of sorrow and regret as she looks intelligence at him.)

But the good news is this: (hope begins to crawl on her face as she gets closer to the camera) if we can work out the kinks in the current issue, we all win. But time is of the essence.

So I need you to settle your mind and focus on these words. Ready?

She straightens up. Yes sir!

He reads out the mantra. And she stays still. He recites the next poem or mantra. And the room is dead silent...

The dead school? She finally speaks up and here uncle perks up

Maybe but which (special) property in particular.

She repeats part of the mantra again, and says the mantra isn't complete-its missing the name of the establishment- which she can't remember. But for what it's worth, it is (the mantra of the top students of the) old castle- like school.

Or it looked like that in painting but like an abandoned shrine last time I saw it.

And precious snickers in the corner- as uncle sends her a glance and she immediately stops, gets up and quietly sneaks to my corner where I had dried my tears to avoid her interrogation.

Hold on, uncle said as he opened his tablet - well, a phone that opens into a portable tablet, the flip phone!

Glancing through, he continued. You once saw it in person right?

Yes, but that was a long time ago. Big sis said and his hologram of his tablet came to life as a map of a city and maybe even the city in it started appearing as he zoomed in. (take google Maps but we can see the buildings and city)

Refresh your mind...(uncle starts mentioning landmarks)

Located off the coast of(bla), (uncle)

Uh huh...(big sis)

Miles away from the(landmark)

And hidden behind the (unknown or lost lands)

Yes! Thats it. Her bus sis says as she genuinely smiles. Maybe for the first time in forever. And it touches Natashas heart but

You have been of great help (bug sis name) I'll send a companion to you as precious is still in my custody (and precious looks at the chief only to do a little dance (maybe when saying if this palace and luxury is custody, I die here!)

Uncle, please - the big sis cuts in

I insist! At this point everyone is either a suspect or a target. So let me help how I can - and don't you dare reject their provisions OK.

Yes sir she sighs.

Well talk soon he says and hangs up as he strts walking out of the room with a look plastered on his face that coud only mean one thing...

Natahsa fly's across the room right grab his arm as he walks briskly down the stakrs and through the halls.

'It all makes sense now' he dads and walks into a hard right making hahaha almost lose her footing.

Is this part necessary

As he keeps walking he tells one of the uniformed men who join him in walking briskly(I mean the boss is in a hurry so everyone should be right haha!) Get director

' Sir you called?!'Director saus as he quickly scrambles in from a corner and natssha is stunned in the sudden change in energy everywhere)

Turn youraelf into an usher within 12 hours!

Yes sir, he attempts to run away but runs back to them asking, sir , for who and where. Her uncle keeps walking away as another uniformed man says: will you go meet the wizard! (you dunce or so, but nit harsh ok comedec) And he runs off.

'Get the mobiles and co ready' yes sir another solider says and walks away.

Uncke please say something I try shaking his arm I'm an effort to budge him and he goes:

(end if my extra dialogue and co ans story continues below_)

"They aren't only stealing what's ours (the properties, special theaters, fabric and co) but trying to awaken (and take control of) the one thing that will end this once and for all-" (he kicks open a huge double door and the doors fly open) "for us!"

Sir! All the men in and outside the huge room or furnished hall stand at attention.

Weapons, and outfits and stuff needed are picked. The uncle gies to prepare and natssha no a feeling like a size cgaracter in this her story runs to change or prepare as the rest scramble off.

(maybe he kicked the doors into the intersection of that isle of the manor so everyone there can take any door or path way to where they need to be- to rooms , weapons room, gamers isle, or even the gym.)

so this is a heavy choice... Choose what will be best suited for the list I need a be me like: disguise, body armour or protection, to underwear???

Eh: disguise: hair (eg over face styles)) eye. chin, for head, or other parts . and if you pick stuff like hair disguise - like a bang, she could say she fighting so it won't do. But in a party situation, shed love it. But if shes to dance she could say its risky as I'll be dancing and they won't be allowed to take outfits that STP or destroy the storyline(unless youre ready to create the different details that come with each like we decided to do for the show bullet situation at the bazaar.

But lets be clear...you could tell or suggest to them, then when they choose a wrong accessou, we grade them and they dont make it out to the battle field! Yes! cause I cant have natasha fighting with her bangs in the middle of battle)

But if they pick good accessories (that fit the function dosent have to be the ones when have in mind after all its a fashion forward storyline and we are making space for all the nuances that could be involved!

A armor or body protection for head. foot. knee, and other parts that we have made or prepared for.

i can only imagine how big this game or web orogressive apologize will become later int he future- see why I need the expansion plans OK)

Faster than I ever thoight I could survive I was driven in a high class black sports car and out of the manor through a tunnel that boasted of brilliant multicolored metalic lights-(I see it on the screens but I look away soon as) it almost blinding my destiny as it got brighter as the driver picked up speed ans in an instant a blur between reality and dreams the automobile was out - in the lamp lit and bulb and led lights filled street that managed to wake me from the euphoria I'm still high on and I simultaneously wondering if the driver (s) of these vehicles and users of these tunnels are even still humans... Na was oo

My thoughts were caught short as the gates opened and I quickly turned on my screen - to the most magnificent view I had seen yet.

The eko hotel and suites- heard bout it, wished tobbe here but never knew I'd make it under the umbrella of a situation like this...

Prancing about her room for the 1000th time,(maybe throwing pillows, pilling cutains) precious finally shouts:
Calm down Natasha!!!
Natasha srops in her tracks: calm down, don't tell me that or it would be easier to obey thatbif it were my sister who said so.

and precious eyes well up in sadness and natasha realises her mistake and gies: ah, I'm sorry, I just-forget it. You're even doing well keeping cool in this situation. I know I'd be crazy and maybe even running the street by now.
Oh thank you. Im so sorry. Nayahsa saya again as she engulf s precious in a gight hug when she hears a knock and the maid comes In and her uncle follows behind.

'You may go.' He said as the maid curtseys and leaves.

Chapter next

Ook, You now know the characters...and their perks and cons

Now I'm really torn on the ending.

They enter the hall- the land or last floor at the bottom of the building.

The ceremony is a cover up of delirance but actually a cut meeting. From the stage that reveals a swimming pool- (could it be in the middle of the stadium like area) to the guardsl memwbers patroling I their soecila uniforms. Director and co had to knock out men to have access to the suitso runifoem

We imagine the program starting with someone apoeaeing ont he stage

The building is somehow connected to another old castle like buoldont that is very important to the family cause even the building is lart of rhe familys property but was unlawfully claimed by the leader of the cult that when her uncle disguised (or geared up actually) and is around to see.

Now , there is a chance he is waiting and watching the event via a secrets cam in the abandoned castle like school. - his man and shim are waiting for them to come there as that's the only place they can sneak to from the building.

From raising their card/ authority / honor or whatever cuts would call something given to them to show their symbolism to the cult.

Natasha could raise her invite and the man walking past as an usehrt or speaker or so holds her wrist tightly schevks the invute and then relates as natasha struggkes ro pu'll her hand.

Maybe they are dressed in assassinX solider outfits (some hoodie, some facemasks and otherwise but really fancy and fashionable.

Or maybe a bright light that is unnaturally bright and seemed to reflect more lights in the hall comes to pull over (its car headlights).

(Maybe their magical or even just gadets dont work as well in the hall with all thise people and their magical obsturctions coming from their own powers so they are all depending on communication, and oersonal powers and whatever the rest can serve- at least for now...especially sijce they are lying low to understand what's sgoing on.

The leader can come in - wearing a mask and his cape all spectacular in entrance as everyone stand s up to bow allegience and Natasha and the rest dissapear into the size lines - to avoid sticking out cause din such a situation, they coukd kill you for not worshipping their master..

Then the jewels suddenly come alive (again, but more clearly) in the bodies of people, and Natasha sees them and feels an even bigger connection and great fear or maybe almost paralyzed in mind cause his aura is very stuffy or compressing and dangerous- not her uncke that is scary and deadly but geniune but this lacks any atom.of geniuitu...and she felt the knew the person...but this aura is too huge for her not to notice it if she really met him before but, maybe he toned it down before???? Or is it because he she her gems that his evil aura is mega amplified???

Then the sacrifices or captures are brought to the stage for cleansing or so and heck they are tied hands and legs and maybe even blind folded.

And as Natasha is getting the orders on communication to catch or take the guys here unawares, a chilling scream-soft enough to be dismissed, but loud enough to pause the ceremony for a split second is heard. Natsshe shoots her eyses (cautiously in the direction only to see a dark tall figure push the body that made that sound into the water as she screamed again (did they close her mouth but she managed to shif it or take it off or just scream as she can right now she can hear many people?) As the pool begin to close

And withoit s secod thought, natssha darts away form her position, or orders and dives into the pool- dodging the men, and their (attacks). as soon as she lands into the clan water(and regret I g her design to not stays dry) the latch or hatch closes seamlessly. And poundings are herd on the latch and outside a s commotion gets noiser.

Now are there people in the pool too? And when did they enter

(Younger sis name!) Natahsa valled while swimming to hold her sister
Sis! Her sister shouts while looking around d blindfolded- an actn that stabbed natahsa heart.

Natasha grabs her body, pulls off the blind fold in a fast motion, grabs her hand and cuts the rope, then quickly taking a breath and going under water , she uses her gloves to light the way so she can cut the rope on her sisters feet or ankle.

Figures or shadows come closer- startling Natasha and she grabs her sisters feet, pulling both her head and her sister s feer outta the water(and towards rhe opposite direction where she saw the figures) - then cutting them lose in one swift motion as more appear rormt he water and her siter screams as she holds on to her tightly. The men start closing in and natasha who is totally inexperienced with this kinda stuff is doing what(pray to and praise God internally for saving her sis but also to help them as she holds hee siter tight in one arm and uses the other to stay afloat.

A.loud burbing kimd of sound is hears and thw were so dosturbes as the men swing to the edges or walls of the pool - leaving natahsa and her sister to watch but not a second you soon and the next sound is them being flished down the dragon or rather slide and into what natahsa thinks is the tunnels to the hell old castle but heck this must be the fatests way in - and inconspicuous.

Even with her rsiseig her wrist- trying to read her watch for where they are headed (as they were sent the map of the castle just as they we're driving close to the place). as the tunnels are many and it seems a dork is coming in the path, Natasha and her sis hold on to each other but a guy from behind aplears with a swore and the 2 girls let go - in different directions. The man goes in Natashas younher sister path - to Natashas boiling anger

Nataha has barelt placed her (platform heeled) shoes on the floor when she started ringing through the has and co. Dollowing the map, intellectual cursing and just hoping Ah! Her sister screamed, and she imbs a railing and jumos really far just to make up for lost space (should natashs ahad attavhed a tracker tobher siter is should she wishbshe did it?)

Sighting them both was a breath of relief but also of deadly anger as he had caught her sister and trying to tie her when Natasha uses her (weapon on him) if its the whip they choose, she grabs him by the neck and throws him over the rails (with the other end of the room tied to a pillar.).

The area is dark and old like an old school and its locker and an old palace.

Natasha grabs her sister by the wrist and pulls her faster than ever- running to an exit, hopefully they find one of their uncles never first and get help cause her sister can barely run(fast) and it pains Natasha as she can't even be bothered about that right now- her sister must have been maltreated and malnourished, but to what extent? What have they done to her?

(Maybe lights go on and off like an evil spirit joined into watch the show and then) Sis!!! Her young sister should when Natasha loses her grip completely

A figure pushes Natasha to the ground and her back is on the floor - with it on top of her. Natasha shouts RUN!!! and is given a slap by the person on top of her who speaks and is then calculated to be a man (uche actually) And he moves his hands (understand that either of the scenarios that you choose to pick can be used in whatever Version, genre or choice you know will be best so we continue)

To pin her to the floor (her hands)

To her neck (trying to strangle her)

Now he could say he hates how Natasha never ever agreed to him, how she's a coward to say no to his FACE and now she's powerless- as she has always been.

Heck, now this depends on the weapons the person picked OK, cause the weapons in their arsenal will also determine how he attacks her ok

If he pins her hand, he'll use his knee to pin them so he has access to her chest, or breast to disarm her of her gadgets and maybe even tear her outfit and who knows, rape her (cause actually uche my biological father is known for being sexually disloyal, and he repeatedly raped my aunt in our home so why not?)

(Maybe she hits her knees together and it produces the shock and maybe she keeps it together?)

(OK the location..even I can explain) its giving a locker or old castle vibe of an engine room of a ship vibe. Yeah combine castle or royal abandoned school vibe

If he holds her neck, she'll try to remove his hands - desperately grasping for precious air so as to get some extra seconds to remember what was taught to her in self defence (Wonder if she has spike ring she uses to slap him or injured him??? Cause his slap might have caused her lip to tear and so she does it back with the gun- only god knows how he is but, Natasha doesn't kill him...I don't know how to benefit this on a cliff hanger and continue the story...

Whatever the case, I recon she'll (after struggling) manage to activate the electric or taser or so on her shit or body - so that it electrocutes both her and u he - so much that he falls off her and she scramble to hide and cayche her breath all still in heavy shock at what tried to happen.

And u he will produce his gun and try the same tactic the dead guy did tonher at the park that night. Shooting even more frankly and sometimes more close to her than she thoughts. But she calms down- rememebrs her unvkets calmness and teaching s to destroy emotion in issues like this, so she braces herself (maube all she needs is just a distraction)

A faint shrill sound is heard, and she used a that moment to whip her room and it catches uche's legs(up almost till his knees) and he loses balance landing back heard on the floor as she artaches it to an iron or pillar or so and picks up his gun- living him dirty slap - hopefully with the gun and pointing it at him... (uche is a coward and a narcissistic criminal. Im sure ntaaha would tell him he dosent deserve to live- with a gun in her hands pointed at him...)

OK, this might be. spectacular way to do a cliff hanger, this is still an arc or event(or give me the word I use for this). so we proceed Gun in hand, well, she calls it authority. Any gang of guys l her path, equals her shouting around them as they scramble and one might use his weapon to block the exit way she was aiming for(remember she's jumping , dosing and getting away from those that are already too close.

If uche does manage to tear her clothes, her running unlocked for her the designing of the tears and covering them up in anew fabric in the color(red) (and design of her choice) oh and dif uches slapbdid tear her lip, the(quick) transformation should at least close the wound- she's neither strong enough to appaer fresh even while fighting.

She can then use her whole to block attacks(magical bukkets or rays from their outfits and co- amcaus et hey stole lots of magical facrica and every snlge one is trained and powerd at this point.

With a swipe, her whip (with it strands) becomes a mini shield that sends off the attacks to other to one size and to the magical blockage + and shatters it as she runs through it

Where does she find herself outside? On the first floor (the floor over the ground floor on the ground). and she tries to close the door behind her but it shifts into a wall and now she gotta decide how to come down and find her sister-

She eyes an outfit and body similar to her sister get into a car and it begins to drive off. At this point , nathasha is crazy she can decide to

Jump off

Come down using the whip

If she jumps off, she lands on the cushiest floor she's ever had the pleasure of entering. Running and about to whoop the car so she can get caught on to it, and arm gets in the way and the wheel catches it- the soldier takes her no more time to with herself as her sister was taken by them chief's men to the hospital.

Almost heaving a sigh, an huge electric surge of beam or power comes out front the building and goes round - they even have to dodge it (that Beam came from her uncle so once they dodge it by a close range- jumping (nathasha) and flipping(guy) in different directions and missing by mere inches, their outfits come alive glowing, their weapons on it gleaming and who knows the guy whose outfit has embroidery, his embroidery begins to dance (and maybe he places a finger on his ear but nathasha mistakes it for him holding his head)

Almost instantly the side of the building next to them rearranges itself (maybe like a jigsaw and a huge glass window appears as many more scores of guys are seen running towards it and is nathasha told to retreat by the uniformed guy(s) cause there are too many and need to give space from them to know how best to fight back or to give their powers a clean more spacious path to destroy.

But the soldier jumps up with his sword or weapon he produces out of thin air like he pulled it from the atmosphere or his outfit itself. AND runs towards them - with more guys and they start banishing the guys- but nathasha (maybe climbs up the building and) spots a few men who are glowing more than the rest and does she tell the uniformed men to not banish them via communicator (maybe another surge of lighting and many guys are gone - vanished. Leaving only the glowing (cult) guys who run to the wall of the building along with the uniformed men in hot pursuit.

The cult guys get close enough in racing and the building instantly switches to an open door - and the jump in and continue running.

The soldiers or uniformed men instantly switch tactics and jump up on the building that then turns into a staircase as we all head into an open window...

Our or My stepping inside - about to leap onto any of the men we can catch- sends me flying upwards and seemingly through (or hitting or bumping) the walls and ceiling as I'm pulled with such force that I can't understand.

The jewel might be in my possession right now but it doesn't explain why I seem to be magnetized or drawn my chest. Like something wraps around it. And I hear my name ceeqwinn(her name is always ceeqwinn for events and co) but speaking is even a trouble as (many be she's room busy shouting as she raises many pillars by inches even her hair brushes on stuff as she's pulled up and into one of main the grand rooms of the building

Where she's finally paused in the middle sky or mid air- and voices become clearer as her uncle and a man - both with their men recruiting behind them as one says the other - her uncle to surrender or she's dead- all he has to do is force the gem out of her and she's losing her soul or life along with it- cause he knows she'll never gift it so she can be free.

She still giggled to twist her body and angles her head to get the view from a drone cam's angle as the man chuckles and girls his hand raised at her tighter and she holds in a screaming of fire in her lungs and intense throbbing pain like she's been slowly run over by a truck with heavy loads on the chest.

Trying to say NO so her uncle doesn't use sympathy to accept she's too late as he stretches his hand - so the other can have the gloves, watch and ring or so on that hand.

The masked man moves away from his defensive army and closer to Natasha's uncle who is also away from his army and in the center of the ball room - still with Natasha in his control on this other hand stretches out his other hand and the uncle grabs it- pulling him to himself so he administers a knee kick to his mask, and giving him a heavy punch that sends him tumbling across the room and losing control of Natasha she's left to fall to pieces (and at this point she can't even scream again -only wishes it didn't have to end this way- and arms wrap her and simultaneously keep her close to a warm chest as both land on the ground(a guard jumped and caught her!)

Now about the guards, there are 2 that are seen more, well around Natasha (they don't always appear together or at the same time like they did with Natasha at Uche's shop but you get they are special???) one is darker and the other is fairer than Natasha. One is more serious(maybe the one in director's bus or so and the other whole serious is a bit more cheerful) haha)

Once uncle dealt with the ring leader and the rest of the cult members attempted to run in to attack him and then, he slides his doot round the floor like a fire bender (sending a new kind of embroidery design or, following the redesigns on the old tiles of the floor- making them all glow) then he immediately spreads his fingers and slams his palm on the floor(completing the move - and the floor where they are standing caves in as they mostly fall into the net(yes, the tiles pattern is the last thing standing, aa a net and they fall into it as it intertwines them in

The rest that get out, the uniformed men go against as the uncle runs in the direction of the masked man...

See why it's almost like you get the choice to see the story from someone's else's perspective!!!

naysahs is barely settled (in mind, body and on floor or a nearby couch) when (Feel free to arrange these in the besta ways for the best results and choices genres and so on)

A man is flung at their direction and they barely get a split second to jump out of the way- (ahes still in the arms of the so older).

With the uncle (who three the leader in their direction cause he didnt obviously know that his niece was there) running (or well, coming in speed and glowing in beams to throw another attach to the already frail man)

Well the cult leader makes a powerful heads light appear behind her runing uncke and it almost hits him but he not only jumps outta the way but also instaltly and hits it with his hand and it flies out ta the window- smashing it and the cult member jumps outta the window too- smashing another huge ceiling height window - but the is caught and pulled back in by the draperies of the building - into the hands of many younger solider and other generals and they get on to stripping him of his powers- his accessories, jewels, hat shirt shoes and he struggles and shkuts and beams of electricity and fallen and beams pass through all of them and the men hold him there - no one wants to give up despiets how strong he looks

The uncle stand down in 3! then gives a powerful beam (the entire building vibrates and the entire pillars and floor glow and with one swioe this semingly unding beam of suoersonic energy that sems to soark like sonic gies outta him a just as the automobile(who could be a demonic character) appears inches beside and passes him going on to (absorbe) the cult member who was already getting released by the uniformed new which were already jumping away

The car(witht he speed of flash or sonic) passes through and stays with the cult member just as the beam comes in contact with it.

30 seconds her uncle or a general or maybe the soilder shout as hmthe guy with her wraps his arms arouhd her tightly, running with her as they jump out of the bidding- barely stucking their landing when the building roof appears to go supa nova! - making everyone brace for impact- the guy with her has shield as one oF his prowess and the ruins appearing to stop in mid air, then start asseming back!

Powerful head lights early make her gasp her heart and destiny away as she barely mangaes to jump out of the way and the soilder too - maybe in the opposite direction. (Or better still he pushes her in a direction cause she still a bit disillisioned, yes!)

He tries coming close to her but the car that just disappeared- appeared again to crush her form another direction, and she jumps up - hoping and not hoping to land on that thing -her feet barely touch it when she could see it chuckled or laughed and it disappears with her falling but the soilder was there to help her syand up immediately as the lights appear again - but not near them this time though its hard to tell cause that thing can be anywhere and no where at once(its like a monster truck- yeah monster with the flames nad glow when the fight began- was in disguise or just had a good paint job so it was allowed to park easily.

1 or more guards were running to her and the car almost ran them over. (they or he was running to give the jewel to Natasha)

Could it be that they started to play pinky in the middle with the jewels cause the vehicle is after those with Gems (maybe unknowingly cause they are scared about who would get crushed.)

So Natasha seeing this (and maybe getting worse from her uncle or confirmation and how the soilder is coming with it to her (her outfit flagged or glow and telephatically he connects with her) -after all she sees the glow with the soilders (maybe cause shes on a cliff or hill- safe.

So she asks one or any of the solider with her if they can retrieve or bring back what they banish...

the gems are (sperad out to cinfuse the truck and) given tonhwr either via pinky in the middle aor by other means- even the last uniformed that was being pursued hotly by the monster truck had the lights vanished behind him and the truck dissapeared once he threw the jewel tothe next soilder and he heaved a huge sigh if relief. Anyone tonrecieve the heads were already running g- like a relay race but you might meed to catch the gen if your partner or next soilder almost gives out then once its in your hands, you dart in the other direction - or you may lose your life

(Does a solider - maybe martins or the ones with natahs get swallowed or run over or so by the truck???)

the soilder that nearly lost his life throws the stones and is instantly off the raider by the truck but martins who was just stepping in, catches one and takes off in another direction then

Maybe director picks one too and as he sees the lights he shits jesus Christmas or holy ghost fire! (Holy he could shout as the truck speeds past him- almost brushing his soul off his body) Martins catch o making martins zizag to receive the jem and off to Natasha hands and her back

As expected, the vehicle appears in front of Natasha and revs and moves by inches and so as it vibrates heavily - as If taunting her (and Natasha could almost swear that she saw it smirked)

(the falshes of light and fighting continue inthe building- illuminating the night like fireworks or rather lighting.- yeah it could have sent off lighting intothe sky and bad weather brewing...)

her legs pressed hard into the ground, and the reflection of lights going on behind her (the solders ready their weapons)- almost distracting her but she bends her knees, shoulders up body tense - these seconds feeling like an eternity(dose the truck transform or growl or roar and) speed like a demon sent afyer her destiny and in one powerful leap, the truck goes through the numerous slashes of weapons and beams and martins or so jumps at it holding a contraption and the truck is pulled into it. And they almost cheer if not for a soldier who goes : wait or they aren't outta the woods yet then some soldiers are sent to help the uncle as more men are thrown out of the building and maybe falling on the balcony, getting trapped in some kinda traps that the men set before coming so they are running to band then and help where they're needed and the rest are with Natasha.

Then they almost all leave in different directions leaving Natasha confused - especially when the soldier who was part of the banishment or containment tells another man to keep watching over her and she grabs hold of his uniform so she tries running off arguing that they still need to get what's in the vehicle and he replies that he won't let more men get in to danger. He's obeyed her orders enough and now she has to obey his (again) as he removes her hands from his uniform and races away. To the building as he was drawing out a weapon and using it on the men or cult members or people that just keep appearing- either jumping out of the building or just from the floors - morphing out to a fountain, trees and floor or some. They are everywhere. So he's going to stop the main point inside...he jumps onto the building's steps and it becomes a trampoline and it propels him into the building...

Natasha (gives her gems in hand to Martin or the guy beside her - so she doesn't lose them and) dashes after him - with the soldier not far behind, he almost has her outfit or hand when she was elevated once she tied stepping foot into the building into but as she was being carried into the wall, she braced for either impact or to swing away when the wall turned or shifted or rearranged into an open balcony and she jumped in only to barely miss a blast.

What are you doing here? Either the soldier she was after asks her cause maybe the building left her close to him.

He was with a gun like weapon aiming the man the chief was fighting who kept making the chaos and Natasha begins to be him- hell keep making more - expending then as long as the bulk of the jewels are under his control. So there are noises as different blasts and fights to on- seems the open floor has been fixed too and while she wasn't looking for how much he did still look fresh for an old man fighting- wait she didn't recognize him in the fight. But the words fly into her ear:.. (At this point she is behind the soldier's shield that he made to protect himself as he shot..and was aiming the villain- careful not to get the chief despite how far they move)...

After destroying my family you have the guts to come back for (a man - the chief) grabs hold of the cult leader and holds him by the collar or neck or high or whatever you want but Natasha now recognizes the man as the same barrister or lawyer who stole her necklace via fraud

You! Barrister. And he makes even more distraction but parts of the building aid the uncle's size and laments aid the evil man (the barrister is different here maybe he had white hair and a beard when he met Natasha but here he looks young, black or dark colored X normal colored hair) so just imagine Natasha's shock

The building is confused first after the family cause it thought them intruders for abandoning it for decades. And as they take more possession of the jewel, and sees more pure hearted yet skilled uniformed man, it answers and helps.

Filled with (well not just rage, but the determination to finally get from this man what he took from her she pulls out the authority (jewel powered gun) and tells the soldier guy(who could be tanko). its now or never- you in or out

And he freezes looking serious and maybe annoyed but she could care less as she immediately points the gun to his pocket and shoots it - making the contraction he took from martins before leaving her with him or the others fly or bounce out of the pocket- breaking the shield - stunning her and him a bit. T

(He's fine cause having while means his outfit and the body underneath is ok. Normally it would never tear but the gun is jewel powered and Natasha only wanted the pocket opened as she couldn't place her hands into it because his powers when activated makes his entire body deadly to an onlooker- maybe he even said don't come to close or touch me when she tried to beg him)

Then she's off trying to catch the gadget - it is hot and vibrating harshly she drops it but the soldier who she shot his pockets(he shouted when he was behind her: we've got a few seconds
Get it high! She could shout back

Now he can jump on an opponent(s) and jumping up , he throws the gadget upward and uses his powers to push it farther in mid air

Then the uncle can deflect a blast from the villain at his men or Natasha and it deflects at windows or so and hits the gadget just as it begins to get destroyed due to the monster truck coming out in rage and it disrupts it from disappearing for a few more precious seconds as Natasha focuses her energy to pull out her jewel- the car has to come out cause its full of magical stuff that are also connected to the jewel- and it chucks Natasha away cause she then waves her arm into the grasslands outside the building and she is dragged down with it too

Either in her chest cause the jewels we're magnetized to the many items in the car

Or her who is active too and she didn't know (or maybe she decided to choose that) so when she waves her arm down, the whole thing grabs the car and maybe that's when the building comes in to help cause she can't help herself at this point

And in both she's pulled down - but how she's saved or lands is up to you to choose

Maybe someone or people rush and catch her before she crashes into the windows with speed

Or she does crash through and grabs a railing and someone holds her hand and they

Or does the building supplement to catch her and bring her down or break her fall, and she's helped down? And how- please help with that too

In all they catch sight of the soldiers nearby slash and destroy this vehicle with all rage and fury and determination as I tried to transform into a(Scorpion or want other dangerous stuff since its mattered from going fast or in its current state)

The distractive fies or opponemts state disspearing as the car gets sliced piece by pieces - every gew slices it loses a body part as thy are trying to make it 'vomit its content s'. what a safe place to store jewels !

How does the boot or contents of the 'vehicle' come out???

She still has her jewel powered gun,

Her uncle- who could open it with one strike is busy(I want that amazing boss written well OK, and if he needs more fight time, tell me bjt this is forbnatahs but if there's choice to see his part then maybe more scenes of him...

The soilders are busy on it, do they do a special move together or with her?

Does she placeher hand on the car-absorbing part of its power and dthe rest pounce on it befire it takes someone else power to upgrade???

Maybe the choice is the calm or force way???

Whatever you decide,with Jehovah's help, know that they finds dozens if not hundreds of yards of magical fabric and they madky pull them out and simultaneously search the car. So by the time the boot or back or tail or mouth of the car us open- wherever is chose MB to hide the jewel, Natasha quickly places her hands into a box ahe quickjt unvoveres only to be amacked outtsma the way when a aoukdee used his weapon to destirt it in one smooth fluid miement and another throwa the box ans everything in the boot on the floor aa they all scramble like nts looking for something, anything until some omg shouts. I foind one! And another- someone else said as marrins or they hear sonthing a vhillibg sound -__ am u be a scream or so and everyone runs cause (mqybe the times cines on and they can hear this death count down.

Witha hld jewl I necklce in hand,she caught a glimpse of another shiny stuff : (a half part jewel or so) but she turns to get it.

She could use her whip to shifit it into a direction as someone pushes her hard in another direction and maybe fakks with her.and they hide for cover as

And the car shakes and explodes, but it dosent blow, it firms a storm of powers as itbegubs suvmcking everything in a a (what) mile radius- maybe even pullong Natasha but shes helped to stay put

Then a guy or some guys ckukd cine into the premisos ir grasslands shouting what the ??? And the building kinda detonates - flames fill the building as everyone even nataaha runs to wards it.

She runs near the building first so it could provide her stones she jumps on and it takes her close... Or other rmeans of transport and it's here she begins to hear sirens of police...

A man runs out but soon as he spwps int he stairs out ta the building, it is switched to hot coals , pins, Or he's blown another shot of fire- and he is already burning. (but maybe Natasha caught by the waist and carried up so she doesn't run as she s told from behind) he is lut out the fire soilder but by

Then another figure starts coming out and she instantly recognises him as her outfit and jewels glow- so she runs off to the man - though the building stairs are still silly, she jumps not step in it, and believes...she's then stepping on floor as the figure that was covered by a cloak throws it away and she grabs it tightly and he hugs back and maybe at this point, she on tears of joy. He hugs tighter then maybe strong her back, but holds her shoulders or arms to (shook a bit so as to) ask her the question since she can't seem to hear him right now

She's taken out to her thoughts of reuniting when she heard the words sister

To which she looks up and he asks DOD you didn't your sister???

To which he happily says yes! As thoughts of Juliet come into her mind and she frowned...but I couldn't find Juliet

If she's (briefly describes her) then we found her George said looking still Natasha but turned to her uncle and said: sir!

I'm honoured to finally be in your presence.

As for George, he gets little screen time though I wonder if Precious later tells Natasha that he called asking if her on her phone- cause the voice in her other phone (uncle) said he was her new, in fact, only boyfriend and husband to be so he should back off. He really wanted to meet Natasha again to confirm but seeing her now- with her uncle is not the right time for nonsense

Yes or the pleasure is mine George. You've grown up so fast. (George might be elated that he is remembered by the chief himself)

And Natasha say excuse me as hell starts coming down the steps and the guards going up to her uncle give her his gives and cheer it prices her as professionally as they can right right now and she's focused on that reflection till she shifts the earth and finds the half of the necklace buried underneath

You can only imagine the happiness and sense of accomplishment when it glows...but a soldier meets her and says well don't comrade- that's makes no(5 minus the pieces of gems oh) or so

And she deadpans while maybe asking what????

The criminals will get taken out of so but maybe later cause they still gotta bring the other criminal back and get their jewels.

So I imagine the episode ends here

OK, the chief is such a baddass giving a better muzan vibes or a more balanced batman or baroness from curella??? I need a fusion powerful and beloved

So who dies or gets a comeback int he sequel? I need this story to be awesome!!! So awesome they want to see some much more - like the sequel!!!

How do we do this???

Jeez! Now were here, we need to know:

When and how do we visit the younger sister t the hospital? When does she wake up and tell them they were planning to- sell her in parts or traffic her or kill her?

And does the uncle go in with Natasha and she whispers who he is and he replies a friend and tells her to rest

Then on coming out, they meet the older sister rushing in ans natahsa hides behind uncle watching her sister as she freezes and knees down before him.

(Remember some guards or maids are with her so they would take her to the location)

How about the press in this world???

How does u he end??? By police in jail

What about when they bring back the guy with the other gem and take it from him and does he beg not to be sent back - and Natasha wonders what's on the other side....

When does the young sis get brought intobthe hoise to continhe healing with private doctors and so (even though she was already on a private ward atvthe hospital - making Natasha to have her knowing that she hasn't been in better hands since forever- though it hurt her that she has to leave so soon as she really misses her sister

What is the conversation between yhe oldee sis nad the uncle?

How shes sorry she his from him all these years- with her sisters that's she was avoiding trouble--.

Responsibility you mean?! The incke might reply then maybe excuses himself from her as he is tired and natsahs follows quickly behund as her sister calls out but she is too dead inside, tired and even urged by someone - uncke or soikders behind her to keep moving forward.

I know precious wasn't inckudes int rhe fight but I wonder if it was unnecessary cayse she barely has much to offer yet.

Are there animals or other mystical creatures in the story. I wondee if the cars - were also an examole of wearing after all, cars count as Part of your outfit! Yes!!!

Even entourages, house, pets, escorts , decor, not just clothes and peesonal grooming

And maybe there's a few sewing machine in the training rooms (from the hand held to hand powered, leg powered(eg butterfly) to hime and industrial ones- but it cmdosent compare to the warehouse or powerhouse of the designs that we get to see snippets of in the castle) and And maybe the one natahsa uses - maybe she sewed the curtain there

Maybe different sew in mavhines of diffeent ages are in the castle building and they got destroyed and so during the fight. And it hutss Natasha but heck, its a fight in the 'fashion museum'

Maybe the building was to hine and training the next bearers or wears of the threads and wielders of the powers they will soon have....

Again, what are they fighting against???

Now, where do they search through the jewels and half necklaces??? (Then retrieve the other one from the banished guy but heck its not the last piece they hoped would it would be - cause its still in Natasha)

Is it in the chiefs private study office

Now the inheritance, coukd it be the same old castle that they fought in??? Or another part of it??? Well I econ natsah must have gotten it via the tunnels so even the front of the building which they visit at night or so makes her and her friends shick to the core

(Maybe her uncle purposfully stayed out of seeing the place with them so a guard took them there - him being shocjed himself that the building looks terribky familiar- yeah, they fought in it couple dozen hours ago and its still intact. But they decide to explore despite the group shouting jesus as lighting flashes in same instant)

And imagibe her, some guards, martins, director , precious entering in and the building comes alive - gleams of light and vibrating motions are heard and felt as Natasha is pulled away bumy a guard or martins or so from a balcony of a rusted and weed covered sewing machine that shocked Natasha cause it reminded her of forgotten or dead dreams.

Maybe wizard wa under the control panel- messing with stuff that also scared natahs and co that were uostairs and they run out of and drive back home like they saw ghosts (maybe Natasha hears a voice as she runs and Niw I think that through out the movie or story , we get the sencmse that na ts ah does have some seer or pyscic powers- and as the movie went on the learns to trust it. Cause if she did, she would have protected the gem more - not just by hiding it, then taking it with her, but never switching it - it meant much for nothing and if she knew, shed trust her guts

As for George, he gets little screen time though I wonder if Orevious later tells Natasha that he called asking if her on her phone- cause the voice in her other phone (uche) said he was her new, in fact, only boyfriend and husband to be so she should back off. He really wanted to meet Natasha again to confirm but seeing her now- with her uncle is not the right time for nonsense

How does the issue with her sister get settled??? She needs to heal.

I saw that they all went to visit her older sister(or took the older sister to a new better environment, and a new shop or business of sewing started) and the uncle tells her to keep her distance so the girls can heal. (after all, she threw away her right as guardian to educate these girls and even made life hellish for herself and them - when she knew him..infact, this is almost unforgivable- but fit his late twin bro he dares this. So she shouldn't crosses him by attempting to come around his girls

And older sister asks her sister if that's what they want. And literally , though sad Natasha and her nods and says she needs space to heal, to grow, finally find that version of herself she's to be that you keep suppressing for reasons best known to you. Im sorry, but for my sanity , I'm not ready to share a home with you cause then it wouldn't be a home but living stop an active volcano. Natasha excuses herself and into the care and her sister joins - and tells her that was brave...she couldn't have the balls to say much and she hugs her as Natasha hush back. The uncle joins in and after saying in proud of you they rush to hug him and he hugs back. As the car rides on....

Now you can imagine Natasha and the rest sprucing up the building...making a part it ready for the for training, sewing, fashion, gadgets, furniture, shoemaking, jewelry making and every kind of profession that has fabric or mechanics involved - since this building is for experimenting and exploring and finally it makes sense. The pure joy- seeing her sister dance in the corner as she carries some paintings... Art being made and curtains put up sure the uncle is gonna give em fund and they gotta take his advice to renovate part by part so they can at least proceed without certain and hesitation.

(Natasha, my old/ new friend, been expecting you. ready to listen now???)

Does the building talk to Natasha? And she asks do you hear that when the door bell chimes- and someone replies- well I hear that!) (This is creepy but heck the building can talk to whoever it wants, she's not crazy..heck even her uncle can hear it but maybe it makes him feel weird hence why he might decide to avoid renovating the building...also cause he has too much to do finding the next successors to dare everything on his own before someone steals the family's legacy after he dies for lack of a blood line)

Maybe a knock or the loud doorbell that sounds like castle bells makes everyone stop in their tracks - wonder who would come visit....

She opens to see he told lecturer and smiles from early to early as he says her uncle says they nurture talents... Natasha might say they are not a skill acquisition center then he might reply yes but you are a skill expository center no?? I guess she could reply and someone could say yes

Great then she'll be your first student

A young teenage girl walks up to Natasha (imagine her friends behind her close by watching)

What's your name?

Lovely she says sweetly

And the group of precious and her younger sister could go aww

And Natasha could say I love you already!

And if you don't mind...he starts - I brought some more (guest)

Guards, uniformed men, guys she saw at the training compound and so started coming up the stairs and some may even be hifiing her as the team comes out by the double doors collecting their own hi fives

And a mysterious figure watches from a high building(the uncle??)

Now the inheritances some come with a swapping of the property in cash or whatever is there like gold. But this building is one of those that won't be compensated. Take it or leave it - along with the millions of cash it brought- now Natasha could decide to share that or the uncle might give them compensation (though they were really wondering if abandoned the project and leaving normal lives or retiring to paradise or vacationing but Natasha's sister (yeah maybe the meeting was done and she along with precious and all who went to the building were present along with uncle and she begun on legacy - they can retire and have it easy but to build something that outlives them, it's better she takes the inheritance that was left for her by mom. After all, poverty won't be problems anymore or she'll know her next meal will always be there - as she invests and grows as a person

What if it's this way in a couple decades Natasha could ask ' at least you would have preserved the history the next generations will wow at - after all you saw that the building is (the uncle says until he gets chuffed by the kids)

Indestructible! Self healing, mighty ! And sorry sir the guards say) They all said in unison and maybe the little sister or precious says I wish I was there and they all keep quiet and maybe tell her to be careful what she wished for or shut up abeg haba.

It's in these thoughts that Natasha decides to set matters straight with her big sis so she has no emotional baggage to carry on this new phase of her life. Hence why they all see her.

We can say Natasha and the hand return from their fear of the building to see her young sister and she engulf her in a tight hug - and precious joins (and maybe Natasha could look at the snacks placed on her blanket or even smell the snacks' aroma coming from her mouth and ask her what she's eating and she'll say uncle bought them for me - yeah he introduced himself as her uncle but Natasha and co weren't there) as uncle asks them why they look like they saw a ghost or avoided the light or heaven's gate or hell street. Then they shy through the building scared the living daylight out of them

Do they force the uncle to come see and everything is in better condition than before- now like a place you could walk into without the building crumbling on you??? And he could say seems like you were welcomed. Or so or did they drop a camera they set there to document the process and leave it there but on watching it the building is now better.

Hence why the younger sister would join uncle in convincing them to go for the building... And yes natahs can choose her inheritance...

As you see this story has quite a few characters- few are flat but heck I don't mind if there are the 12,6, or so kixuki or rank as in demon slayer...

I mean, lets be clean, this chief has a literal fuvking army and almost unlimited arsenal and riches at his disposal so...giving muzan vibes - you know, when muzan has a daughter he loves so much h - thats the idea here I think with uncke and Natasha

Though, basmck story could be that he loved Natasha ms mom so much and they were good friends but his older twin bro wanted her and she was automatically betrothed to him. Cause she didn't want enmity with the families of she ran away. So when she had the first, and she looked like his bro, he lost hope, maybe he'll not even be able to play with her or someone like her anymore and he felt bad cause he missed his chance and is pining for it. So when the families were attacked he took it as his personal responsibility to find them..she was dead, well no marriage there(yeah he wanted to marry her).

so when he found natasha to be a striking image of his crush and best friend, now you get where the love from such a calm cool mature guy that's like sir Bruce came from. He's not the openly affectionate type and being alone for years made it worse but seeing her unlocked that side of him that he knew was injured. Only Gid knows when he'll tell Natasha but I highly think it's in the sequel! Yay!

Now, the scene where the jewels are sorted and Natasha gets her inheritance:

The guards and co including natahsa gather at the uncle's giant symtudy table placing the jewels and the same curtain she sees behind at his office - first time she met him is again behind his scahi and study table.

But more grandee, heavier, as it was made from magic, effort and historical time all in one. It shows a woman with her hand outstretched as a man kneels down with a package or so for her. Feel free to change this into whatever symbol or emblem you know is best cause I just said this cause if this:

Then taking away the genuine gems away from the fake necklaces they arrange it on the table as the Mao or image or painting of the necklace actually is and with every correct placement, maybe the old jewel necklace they've done a number on, (or whatever it shape shifted into) forms a new connection with the gem- and the necklace is forming anew but the last gem - then the guy is brought or has another guy prepared the gem from

Him(fortunate we saw how that could work with the monster truck)

Then her necklace glows- well her chest under neath it glows and everyone shift ash she looks atvher uncle who gives her the go ahead and she places her fingers on the neclace and the last piecs appeaes and the entire mecklace is finished. (The glow, soarkle or so ..you do that and everyone is wowed- as precious and direcror are all ooh ans ahs). i dontthink orexious wants to go home again haha)

Then the uncle waves his hand and the curtain opens up and reveals a wall. Then pushing or pulling g a book, button or pushing a wardrobe of outfits to the side he gets to the (creative button hiding in plain sight)

And the mannequins shift out of the wall and he places the necklace on the mannequins female neck- the parts of the gems are engracmved on her neck and once he pushed the last ans most dorminalt jewel in the mannequins canhe posture and she seirher curtesying or flaunting her necklace with her fingers now on her neck(maybe this is a precaution so no one takes away the necklace while someone is in there cause there is no escape!)

(Dark but did someone die in there once years ago)

It shows a hall that spirals downwards deep into the ground as numeeous outfits and dresses are in the spiral of wardrobe that cannraaggeng themselves and as uncle either walks in or better still jumps, ctches a rope and invite Natasha to use the stairs which niw open as he jumped in while the room was areanging itself(it sgottalook presentable right).

The floor seems to glow and rhe walla rearrange as Natasha steps back and it slows down to a stop. He uncle then helps her in - to the bottom of thw floor and she told to pick any dress or outfits nd get the inheritance that cimes with it

(How do you think he knew she wasn't just a great lookalike of his lost friend but special too? It was the dress she wore!)

He pulls out one and she accepts it and take sout the paowrs belonging to it as an example to her. Wether she wears it or not is her choice anyway you do the best.

The gang woder if this a good deal cause eshe git and estate - swappable BT a couple hundress of millions and co but uncke speaks up that if she wants brave enough to step l'm she woukd have gotten the recommenation. So if she wants to try again, she can take the gusew work out ans jump in(herself) (and that must be why he hanged on the rope and rail, she had to step on the floor or enter there barefooted and she'll get her recommendation.

She got carried to the bottom and her uncle left- she didn't know. Does she walk through the changing room, and gets handed her papers cause she walks up and everyone who was filled with aww faces suddenly went boring and confused. She was in the sme dress as the beginning- but it looks better cmas its glowing, the embroidery is back. and its been updated for a girl living in this age of time and so on..yeah, do the dresses update themselves??? So if there are outfits missing they must either be recovered or, the owners must be with them and those owners are family too!! Sequel idea!!!)

Then the papers are open and yes were back to an old named address and marins looks up the current name on their secret family records online or on their data base) then the image of the huge building and its surrounding estate along with the official deed is also incmuses in the purse or so used to file it fashionably (yeah the data of the castle or so is also included in database)(yes, even that huge hotel with the tunnel.to the castle is now natashas cause the deed of that land has been found!)

You can imagine the uncle staying back to checks the rest if the documents so as to start legal action to get them back! Yes they were almost annihilated but now, they're better!!!

But what's the name if the school or castle

And I think I'm sone with the story

All that's left around cultural significances and link to my heritage or so. Im Igbo and Nigerian so what do I do??? Will I get suooorted if I do this??? Im scared ooo or should I do two versions??? Or shluld it be rooted on Nigeria and Igbo??? Jeez I'm famished

